17th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
17º DOMINGO DEL TIEMPO ORDINARIO

“And I tell you, ask and you will receive; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you.” - Lk 11:9

“Así también les dijo a ustedes: Pidan y se les dará, busquen y encontrarán, toquen y se les abrirá”. - Lc 11, 9
CELEBRATING ST. IGNATIUS LOYOLA  (But not too much)

BY JOSEPH F. WAGNER, SJ

At a recent gathering of Jesuits in Chicago, one of our younger guys is said to have remarked that St. Ignatius would roll over in his grave if he knew that his name is more often invoked by Jesuits than the name of Our Lord! I am sure that the comment was made both in humor and in all seriousness. Looking over a sample of my homilies, however, although I’ve often invoked Ignatius, I plead not guilty overall!

Still, I recognize the truth behind the joke. And it is all the more ironic, of course, because one of the hallmarks of Ignatius’s spiritual teachings was that we are all to strive for interior freedom in living our spiritual lives. That is to say that we ought to be free of all attachments in placing ourselves at the service of God. And those attachments are anything that we erroneously come to believe are essential or of enormous importance to us in finding our happiness and peace in God. These include all our obvious obsessions and addictions, of course, but the attachments more difficult to recognize are the ones that we can develop toward entirely good things.

Sometimes we can become attached to certain forms or practices of prayer, not only finding them personally beneficial, but perhaps coming to decide that they are essential, both to ourselves and others. We rightly enjoy the celebration of family traditions, but if those traditions become attachments, we then make ourselves miserable when the time comes to accept that they cannot always be carried on. And, of course, even Jesuits can become so attached to the good we have found in the teachings of St. Ignatius, that we might inadvertently begin to see those teachings as ends in themselves rather than useful paths toward God.

A few years ago I gave a talk on attachments at a retreat I helped lead. Afterward, I received a two-page hand-written letter from one of the retreatants expressing his displeasure that my talk took place in a social gathering room rather than in the retreat center’s chapel where, he was morally certain, such talks should take place! I’m pretty sure he missed the point of my talk!

St. Ignatius spent years of his life founding and leading the Society of Jesus. And yet, he was known to say that if some future pope ever ordered the Jesuits to disband, he would need only about fifteen minutes of prayer to come to peace with that decision, and then move on with this life. Now that is freedom!

This Wednesday, July 31st, we join the Universal Church in celebrating what we affectionately refer to as St. Ignatius Day, the memorial of St. Ignatius Loyola. This year I will celebrate it asking him to pray that we might all be led on paths of greater interior freedom to live the life to which God calls us.

Joseph F. Wagner, SJ

In this book he urges his brothers and sisters to stay and fight. The book is available for only $4.95 on www.sufferingchurchbook.com. We have purchased a few books and have placed them in the Loyola Room. Feel free to take one to read as we continue to pray for all victims of abuse. When you are done with the book we invite you to return it so others may read.

SEVENTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Reading I  Gn  18:20-32
Psalm  Ps  Ps 138:1-3, 6-8
Reading II  Col  2:12-14
Gospel  Lk  11:1-13

In bargaining with God, Abraham demonstrates a real persistence in prayer. Jesus invites us to persist in prayer as well, to “ask...seek...knock”. May our prayer open us to God’s will, and so build up his strength within us. In baptism we have died with Christ, and have been raised to life with him.

AUGUST 4

EIGHTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Reading I  Eccl  1:2, 2:21-23
Psalm  Ps  90:3-6, 12-14, 17
Reading II  Col  3:1-5, 9-11
Gospel  Lk  12:13-21

Listen carefully to the voice of the Lord: set your heart on what will last forever. We only fool ourselves if we believe that our possessions will bring us happiness and life. Instead, “grow rich in the sight of the Lord”.
